

The University of Nebraska High School has been developing quality distance learning curriculum for over 90 years. If you're new to online learning or looking for ways to enhance your family's home learning, our courses and expertise will help you make the most of your online schooling.

Online learning is a journey—UNHS is here to guide you through. Along your path, there are some tips and tricks you can use to make distance learning more effective and fun.

CREATE A SPACE FOR LEARNING

If you're not used to online learning, it can be tricky to get into a learning routine at home. Create a welcoming space dedicated specifically for coursework to foster focus and organization.

SET A ROUTINE

UNHS courses are self-paced, so you can find a schedule that works for you. Start a routine that feels natural—spend a few hours a day on courses and take breaks to get some fresh air.

REACH OUT FOR HELP

Just because you're learning online doesn't mean you're on your own. At UNHS, teachers are accessible to answer questions and our responsive staff can help with any other issues you encounter.

PURSUE YOUR INTERESTS

Summer is the perfect time to try something new, get ahead or follow your passions. UNHS offers courses of all levels in all subjects, so we can help you achieve whatever you set out to accomplish.

Online learning is more enriching than ever. UNHS provides the best distance learning environment for all students—together, we can build a path to success.
